Indo-European studies is a field of linguistics and an interdisciplinary field of study dealing with Indo-European languages, both current and extinct. Its goal is to amass information about the hypothetical proto-language from which all of these languages are descended, a language dubbed Proto-Indo-European (PIE), and its speakers, the Proto-Indo-Europeans, including their society and mythology.

Britannia (/ b r ɪ ˈ ɛ ɪ ˈ ɪ ʃ n i ˈ ɪ ɪ /) has been used in several different senses. The name is a Latinisation of the native Brittonic word for the island, PretanĀ, which also produced the Greek form Prettanike or Brettaniai, which originally, in the fourth to the first centuries BC, designated a collection of islands with individual names, including Albion or Britain.
